

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

[FIRST SESSION.]

CONGRESSIONAL DIRECTORY,

COMPILED FOR THE USE OF CONGRESS

By BEN: PERLEY POORE,

CLERK OF PRINTING RECORDS.

FIRST EDITION.

CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 18, 1877.

WASHINGTON:
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.
1877.

ENTERED ACCORDING TO ACT OF CONGRESS, IN THE YEAR 1877,

By BEN: PERLEY POORE,

IN THE OFFICE OF THE LIBRARIAN OF CONGRESS, AT WASHINGTON.

THE CONGRESSIONAL DIRECTORY was published as a private enterprise from 1820 until 1864, inclusive, and copies were sold to Congress and to the Departments. It was sometimes two months after the commencement of a session before the first edition of the Directory was ready for delivery, and the work did not contain much of the varied information given in similar publications at the capitals of some of the States and at the seats of government in Europe.

At the commencement of the second session of the Thirty-eighth Congress, a joint resolution was passed unanimously ordering the compilation and publication of the Congressional Directory, under the direction of the Joint Committee on Public Printing. The joint committee, urged by Senators and Representatives to give additional value to the work, examined upward of twenty publications of a similar nature, and adopted several features—among them statistical sketches of members of Congress. The form of these statistical sketches, which met the approval of the joint committee, was that which they found in a publication entitled the "House of Commons," which has been published annually at London, in its present shape, since 1852, and it has since been used as a model in the compilation of the Congressional Directory. The statistical sketches give the Senator, Representative, or Delegate's full name; home post-office address; place and time of birth; early education; collegiate education, if any, with date of graduating; professional studies; profession or business; all public offices held, with dates of holding them; their vote on their last election to Congress; the name of their opponent; the politics of each, and the vote of each when the election was by the people.

This information has been supplied by the members of Congress, in response to circulars sent them by direction of the Joint Committee on Public Printing, as it could not be obtained in any other way. No biographical work has ever given the politics of Congressmen, the names of their opponents when elected, or the votes given to each, although they have appeared at the close of each year in the valuable newspaper almanacs.

Any person can obtain a copyright for a work by depositing a copy of the title-page with the Librarian of Congress and paying the stated fee. No attempt can be made to defend, under the copyright act, the plan of this Congressional Directory, as it is based on numerous European publications of a similar nature, some of them dating back many years; neither is the collection of biographies of a class of public men an original idea, as scores of such collections have been published within the present century. But for the statistical sketches, obtained from original sources by the compiler, the protection of the copyright act can be claimed. It will, however, only be invoked when this original matter is republished imperfectly for gain. It was to prevent this that the Joint Committee on Public Printing directed the compiler to secure a copyright.

THE CAPITOL.

The Capitol fronts the east, and stands on a plateau ninety feet above the level of the Potomac, in latitude $38^{\circ} 55' 48''$ north and longitude $77^{\circ} 1' 48''$ west from Greenwich.

The southeast corner-stone of the original building was laid on the 18th of September, 1793, by President Washington, aided by the Freemasons of Maryland. It was constructed of sandstone, painted white, from an island in Aquia Creek, Virginia, under the direction of Stephen H. Hallett, James Hoban, Geo. Hadfield, and afterwards of B. H. Latrobe, architects. The north wing was finished in 1800 and the south wing in 1811, a wooden passage-way connecting them. On the 24th of August, 1814, the interior of both wings was destroyed by British incendiaries, but they were immediately rebuilt. In 1818 the central portion of the building was commenced under the architectural superintendence of Charles Bulfinch, and the original building was finally completed in 1827. Its cost, including the grading of the grounds, alterations, and repairs, up to 1827, was $2,433,844.13.

The corner-stone of the extensions to the Capitol was laid on the 4th of July, 1851, by President Fillmore, Daniel Webster officiating as orator of the day. Thomas U. Walter was architect, and subsequently Edward Clark, under whose direction the work was completed in November, 1867. The material used for the extensions is white marble from the quarries at Lee, Massachusetts, with white marble columns from the quarries at Cockeysville, Maryland.

The dome of the original central building was constructed of wood, but was removed in 1856 to be replaced by the present stupendous structure of cast iron, which was completed in 1865. The entire weight of iron used is 8,909,200 pounds.

The main building is three hundred and fifty-two feet four inches long in front and one hundred and twenty-one feet six inches deep, with a portico one hundred and sixty feet wide, of twenty-four columns on the east, and a projection of eighty-three feet on the west, embracing a recessed portico of ten coupled columns. The extensions are placed at the north and south ends of the main building, with connecting corridors forty-four feet long by fifty-six feet wide, flanked by columns. Each extension is one hundred and forty-two feet eight inches in front, by two hundred and thirty-eight feet ten inches deep, with porticos of twenty-two columns each on their eastern fronts, and with porticos of ten columns on their ends and on their western fronts. The entire length of the building is seven hundred and fifty-one feet four inches, and the greatest depth, including porticos and steps, is three hundred and twenty-four feet. The area covered by the entire building is one hundred and fifty-three thousand one hundred and twelve square feet.

The dome is crowned by a bronze statue of Freedom, modeled by Crawford, which is nineteen feet six inches high, and which weighs 14,985 pounds. The height of the dome above the base-line of the east front is two hundred and eighty-seven feet eleven inches; the height from the top of the balustrade of the building is two hundred and seventeen feet eleven inches; and the greatest diameter at the base is one hundred and thirty-five feet five inches.

The rotunda is ninety-five feet six inches in diameter, and its height from the floor to the top of the canopy is one hundred and eighty feet three inches.

The Senate chamber is one hundred and twelve feet in length, by eighty-two feet in width, and thirty feet in height. Its galleries will accommodate one thousand persons.

The Representatives' Hall is one hundred and thirty feet in length, by ninety-three feet in width, and thirty feet in height.

The Supreme Court room was occupied by the Senate until December, 1860, the court having previously occupied the room beneath, now used as a law library.

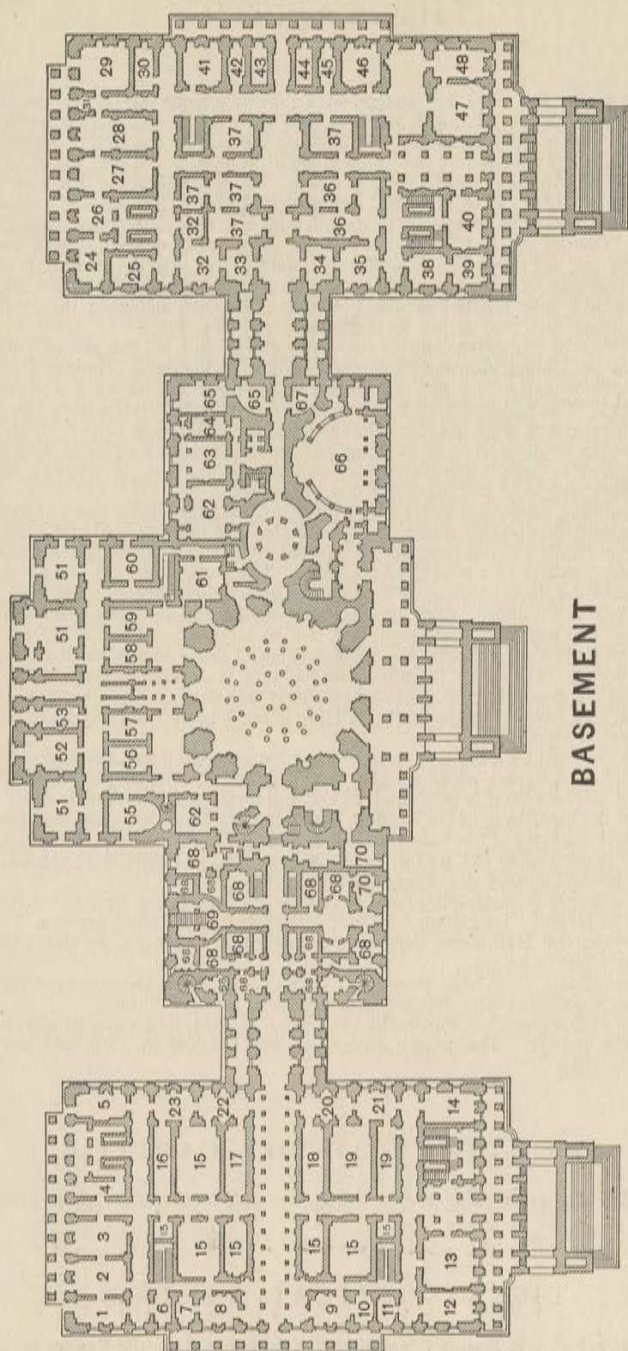

The Library of Congress was burned by the British in 1814, and was partially destroyed by an accidental fire in 1851. The present center hall was finished in 1853, and the wing halls were finished in 1867.

ARCHITECT OF THE CAPITOL.

DEPARTMENT DUTIES.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

The Secretary of State is charged, under the direction of the President, with the duties appertaining to correspondence with the public ministers and consuls of the United States, and with the representatives of foreign powers accredited to the United States; and to negotiations of whatever character relating to the foreign affairs of the United States. He is also the medium of correspondence between the President and the chief executive of the several States of the United States; he has the custody of the great seal of the United States, and countersigns and affixes such seal to all executive proclamations, to various commissions, and to warrants for pardon, and the extradition of fugitives from justice. He is regarded as the first in rank among the members of the Cabinet. He is also the custodian of the treaties made with foreign states, and of the laws of the United States. He grants and issues passports, and exequaturs to foreign consuls in the United States are issued through his office. He publishes the laws and resolutions of Congress, amendments to the Constitution, and proclamations declaring the admission of new States into the Union. He is also charged with certain annual reports to Congress relating to commercial information received from diplomatic and consular officers of the United States.

THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE

Becomes the Acting Secretary of State in the absence of the Secretary. Under the organization of the Department the Assistant Secretary, Second Assistant Secretary, and Third Assistant Secretary are respectively charged with the immediate supervision of all correspondence with the diplomatic and consular officers in the countries named in Divisions A, B, and C, of those bureaus, and of the miscellaneous correspondence relating thereto, and, in general, they are entrusted with the preparation of the correspondence upon any questions arising in the course of the public business that may be assigned to them by the Secretary.

THE CHIEF CLERK.

The Chief Clerk has the general supervision of the clerks and employees of the Department.

BUREAU OF INDEXES AND ARCHIVES.

The duty of opening the mails; preparing, registering, and indexing daily all correspondence to and from the Department, both by subjects and persons; the preservation of the archives; answering calls of the Secretary, Assistant Secretaries, Chief Clerk, and chiefs of bureaus for correspondence, &c.

DIPLOMATIC BUREAU.

Diplomatic correspondence and miscellaneous correspondence relating thereto.

Division A.—Correspondence with Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain, Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Sweden and Norway, and Switzerland, and miscellaneous correspondence relating to those countries.

Division B.—Correspondence with Argentine Republic, Brazil, Central America, Chili, Greece, Hawaiian Islands, Hayti, Italy, Liberia, Mexico, Paraguay, Peru, Russia, San Domingo, Uruguay, and Venezuela, and miscellaneous correspondence relating to those countries.

Division C.—Correspondence with Barbary States, China, Egypt, Friendly and Navigator's Islands, Japan, Madagascar, Muscat, Siam, Society Islands, Turkey, and other countries, not assigned, and miscellaneous correspondence relating to those countries.

CONSULAR BUREAU.

Correspondence with consulates, and miscellaneous correspondence relating thereto.

There are three divisions, A, B, and C, with certain countries allotted to each, as in the Diplomatic Bureau.

BUREAU OF ACCOUNTS.

Custody and disbursement of appropriations under direction of the Department; charged with custody of indemnity funds and bonds; care of the building and property of the Department.

BUREAU OF ROLLS AND LIBRARY.

Custody of the rolls, treaties, &c.; promulgation of the laws, &c.; care and superintendence of the library and public documents; care of the revolutionary archives, and of papers relating to international commissions.

BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

Preparation of the reports upon Commercial Relations.

EXAMINER OF CLAIMS.

[From the Department of Justice.]

The examination of questions of law and other matters submitted by the Secretary or the Assistant Secretary, and of all claims.

THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

The Secretary of the Treasury has charge of the national finances. He digests and prepares plans for the improvement and management of the revenue and support of the public credit; he superintends the collection of the revenue, and prescribes the forms of keeping and rendering all public accounts, and making returns; grants all warrants for money to be issued from the Treasury in pursuance of appropriations by law; makes report and gives information to either branch of Congress, as may be required, respecting all matters referred to him by the Senate or House of Representatives, and generally performs all such services relative to the finances as he is directed to perform; controls the erection of public buildings, the coinage and printing of money, the collection of commercial statistics, the marine hospitals, the revenue-cutter service, the life-saving service. Under his superintendence the Light-House Board discharges the duties relative to the construction, illumination, inspection, and superintendence of light-houses, light-vessels, beacons, buoys, sea-marks, and their appendages; makes provision for the payment of the public debt under enactments of Congress, and publishes statements concerning it, and submits to Congress, at the commencement of each session, estimates of the probable receipts, and of the required expenditures, for the ensuing fiscal year.

The routine work of the Secretary's office is transacted in the following offices:

Division of Appointments.—The supervision of all matters relating to the appointment, removal, promotion, or suspension of the officers, clerks, messengers, &c., under the control of the Treasury Department, and the custody of papers pertaining thereto; the examination of complaints against officials; the preparation of reports relative to the employment and compensation of persons in the public service, and the publication of "The United States Treasury Register;" the verification of pay-rolls, and vouchers for salaries of steamboat-inspectors, custodians, and janitors; the inspection of the accounts of internal-revenue gaugers; and the examination of estimates for salaries and compensation of officers and employees, and of incidental expenses payable from the appropriation for collecting the customs revenues, and keeping account thereof; the keeping account of absence from duty of employees in the several bureaus and offices of the Department, and the consideration of requests for leave of absence.

Division of Warrants, Estimates, and Appropriations.—The issue of all warrants for the receipt and payment of public moneys, and of appropriation and surplus-fund warrants; the keeping of all appropriation, sinking-fund, public-debt, and the Pacific Railroad accounts; the publication of the annual estimates of appropriations, and of the digest of appropriations made at each session; the preparation of the statements of the annual receipts and expenditures; the publication of the monthly statements of the public debt, and the preparation of the daily statement showing the financial condition of the Treasury; and the preparation of statistical tables relating to the finances.

Division of Public Moneys.—The supervision of the independent-treasury offices, the designation of national-bank and other depositories, and the obtaining from them of proper securities; the keeping of a general account of receipts into the Treasury; the directing of all public officers, except postmasters, as to the deposit of the public moneys collected by them; the issue and payment of duplicate checks; the transportation of public moneys and securities, and expenses thereof; and the care and final disposition of moneys arising from fines, penalties, and forfeitures under the internal-revenue laws.

Division of Customs.—The examination of all questions arising under the tariff laws, upon appeals from decisions of collectors of customs, involving the rates and amount of duties on imports; the consideration of questions in regard to the entry, appraisal, and delivery of merchandise, and payment of duties thereon; correspondence with consular officers, through the Department of State, in regard to dutiable values, invoices, &c.; supervision of appraisers in securing uniformity of valuation; supervision of the seal-fisheries in Alaska, and such other matters in that Territory as are placed by law in charge of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Division of Internal Revenue and Navigation.—The examination of petitions for the remission of fines, penalties, and forfeitures, under the customs, internal-revenue, navigation, and steamboat-inspection laws, and applications for compromise of claims in favor of the United States, except customs cases; all internal-revenue business coming before this office, except such as relates to appointments; the examination, of questions relating to the marine documents, entry, clearance, hypothecation, and admeasurement and tonnage of vessels, tax on tonnage, fees for the services of revenue officers, and the transportation of merchandise in vessels.

Division of Loans and Currency.—The supervision of the details of all matters pertaining to loans and the issue and redemption of United States bonds, including the supervision of the counting, cancellation, record, and destruction of all redeemed and mutilated United States notes and fractional currency, and internal-revenue stamps redeemed or mutilated in printing; and the charge of the distinctive paper for United States notes, bonds, and currency.

Division of Revenue Marine.—The management of the revenue-marine service, including the supervision of the building and equipment of revenue-vessels, their repair, purchase, and sale; the assignment of cruising-grounds; the assignment of officers to vessels; the examination, admission, and government of revenue-marine cadets; the examination of matters pertaining to the light-house establishment; the examination of matters relating to the United States coast survey; the charge of all matters relating to weights and measures; the general superintendence of the life-saving service; the award of medals for the saving of life from the perils of the sea, and the collection of statistics of marine disasters.

Division of Stationery, Printing, and Blanks.—The purchase and supply of stationery for the Department, subtreasuries, depositories, United States mints, custom-houses, revenue-vessels, steamboat-inspection service, life-saving stations, marine hospitals, light-houses, and internal-revenue offices; and blanks and blank-books for the same, excepting internal-revenue offices; the arrangement for publication and the indexing of the several reports and tables comprising the finance report; the superintendence of the advertising of the Department; and the subscription for newspapers and periodicals.

Division of Special Agents.—The assignment and detail of special agents, and the examination of their accounts for compensation and travelling-expenses, and the examination and reference of their reports; the supervision and enforcement of measures for the prevention of smuggling and frauds on the customs revenue; supervision of the transportation of merchandise in bond; and the enforcement of the laws and regulations governing the trade with Mexico and Canada, so far as relates to the establishment of bonded routes and mode of transportation.

Two disbursing-clerks pay the salaries and compensation of the officers and employés of the Department, and disburse, upon the orders of the Secretary, such moneys as have been appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Department, keeping the necessary accounts connected therewith.

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES OF THE TREASURY.

One of the two Assistant Secretaries (now Hon. R. C. McCormick) has the general supervision of all the work assigned to the Divisions of Appointments, Public Moneys, Revenue Marine, Stationery, Printing and Blanks, Loans and Currency, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and office of the Director of the Mint; the signing of all letters and papers as Assistant Secretary, or "by order of the Secretary," relating to the business of the foregoing divisions and bureau, that do not by law require the signature of the Secretary of the Treasury; the performance of such other duties as may be prescribed by the Secretary or by law.

The other Assistant Secretary (now Hon. H. F. French) has the general supervision of all the work assigned to the Divisions of Customs, Special Agents, Internal Revenue and Navigation, Warrants, Estimates, and Appropriations, and to the offices of Supervising Architect, Supervising Surgeon-General of Marine Hospitals, Bureau of Statistics, and Supervising Inspector-General of Steamboats; the signing of all letters and papers as Assistant Secretary, or "by order of the Secretary," relating to the business of the foregoing divisions, that do not by law require the signature of the Secretary of the Treasury; and the signing, instead of the Secretary, of certain warrants under section 246 of the Revised Statutes; the performance of such other duties as may be prescribed by the Secretary or by law.

THE FIRST COMPTROLLER.

The First Comptroller countersigns all warrants issued by the Secretary of the Treasury, covering the public revenues into the Treasury, and authorizing payments therefrom. All accounts examined by the First Auditor, except those which go to the Commissioner of Customs, and all examined by the Fifth Auditor, and accounts of Registers and Receivers of land-offices examined by the Commissioner of the General Land-Office, are re-examined and revised in the First Comptroller's Office. Here, also, are examined and reported on the drafts for salaries and expenses drawn by ministers and consuls abroad, and the requisitions for advances drawn by marshals, collectors of internal revenue, secretaries of the Territories, and other disbursing-officers. Powers of attorney for the collection of drafts on the Treasury are examined; and many other duties, having reference to the adjustment of claims against the United States, pertain to the office, but are of too varied a character to be enumerated.

THE SECOND COMPTROLLER.

Accounts received from the Second, Third, and Fourth Auditors against the United States are examined, revised, and certified to, viz: Reported by the Second Auditor—for organizing volunteers, recruiting, pay of the Army, special military accounts, Army ordnance, the Indian service, the Army Medical Department, contingent military expenses, bounty to soldiers, the Soldiers' Home, and the National Home for Disabled Volunteers. Reported by the Third Auditor—disbursements by the Quartermaster's Department, the Subsistence Department, the Engineer Department, Army pensions, property taken by military authority for the use of the Army, and miscellaneous war-claims. Reported by the Fourth Auditor—disbursements for the Marine Corps, by the Navy paymasters for pay and rations, by the paymasters at the navy-yards, for Navy pensions by the disbursing agents at foreign stations, and the financial agent at London.

These accounts are examined in Divisions, devoted respectively to the affairs of Army Paymasters, Army Quartermasters, Navy Paymasters and the Marine Corps, Army Pensions, Miscellaneous Claims, and Indian Affairs.

THE COMMISSIONER OF CUSTOMS.

The Commissioner of Customs revises and certifies the accounts of revenue collected from duties on imports and tonnage; of moneys received on account of the marine-hospital fund; fines, penalties, and forfeitures under the customs and navigation laws; steamboat inspection; licenses to pilots, engineers, &c.; and from miscellaneous sources connected with customs matters, accounts of the importation, withdrawal, transportation, and exportation of goods under the warehouse system; for disbursements for the expenses of collecting the revenue from customs, revenue-cutter service, construction and maintenance of lights, marine hospitals, debentures, excess of deposits for unascertained duties, refund of duties exacted in excess, life-saving service, construction of custom-houses and marine hospitals; fuel, light, water, &c., for custom-houses, &c.; approves and files the official bonds given by customs officers, and transmits their commissions; files the oaths of office of the persons paid in the accounts certified by him; and prepares for the use of the law-officers of the Department the accounts of those in arrears under the heads above mentioned.

The office is organized in four divisions, viz: customs, bookkeepers, bond, and miscellaneous.

THE FIRST AUDITOR.

It is the duty of the First Auditor to receive all accounts accruing in the Treasury Department (except those arising under the internal-revenue laws), and, after examination, to certify the balance, and transmit the accounts, with the vouchers and certificate, to the First Comptroller or to the Commissioner of Customs, having respectively the revision thereof. The subordinate Divisions of his office are—

Customs Division.—Receipts and expenditures of the customs service, including fines, emoluments, forfeitures, debentures, drawbacks, marine-hospital service, revenue-cutter service, &c.

Judiciary Division.—Salaries of United States marshals, district attorneys, commissioners and clerks; rent of court-houses, support of prisoners, &c.

Public Debt Division.—Redemption of the public debt, including principal, premium, and interest; payment of interest; redemption of certificates of deposit; notes and currency destroyed.

Warehouse and Bond Division.—Examination of accounts received from the various custom-houses.

Miscellaneous Division.—Accounts of mints and assay offices; Territories; Coast Survey; salaries and contingent expenses of the legislative, executive, and judicial departments of the Government; construction, repair, and preservation of public buildings; Treasurer of the United States for general receipts and expenditures, together with a large number and variety of accounts not permanent in their character.

THE SECOND AUDITOR.

The Second Auditor examines, adjusts, and transfers to the Second Comptroller all accounts relating to bounties, the recruiting service, the pay and clothing of the Army, the subsistence of officers, medical and hospital accounts, the pay of private physicians, and the expenses of the War Department, contingent disbursements of the Army, and all accounts relating to Indian Affairs. The Divisions are—

Paymaster's Division.—Army paymasters' accounts and payments to the Soldiers' Home and the National Home for Disabled Volunteers.

Miscellaneous Claims Division.—Accounts of the Ordnance and Medical Departments of the Army, contingent expenses, Army Medical Museum and publications, regular and volunteer recruiting, freedmen's bounty and pay.

Indian Affairs Division.—Disbursements for the Indians, money accounts and property returns of Indian agents, and claims for goods supplied and services rendered.

Pay and Bounty Division.—Examination and adjustment of claims of white and colored soldiers and their legal heirs for pay and bounty.

Investigation of Frauds Division.—Investigation of alleged cases of forgery, fraud, overpayments, unlawful withholding of money, &c., in the payment of white and colored soldiers.

Bookkeeper's Division.—Accounts of the numerous requisitions drawn by the Secretaries of War and Interior, examined and charged to various appropriations.

THE THIRD AUDITOR.

The Third Auditor examines, adjusts, and transfers to the Second Comptroller all accounts relating to the Quartermaster-General's Department, the Engineer Corps, and the Commissary-General's Department of the Army; claims for lost horses, accounts of unpaid pensions, State war-claims, and the claims of States for organizing, arming, and equipping volunteers after 1861. The Divisions of the Third Auditor's Office are—

Bookkeeper's Division.—Accounts of the numerous requisitions drawn by the Secretary of War and of the Interior, examined and charged to various appropriations.

Quartermaster's Division.—Accounts of disbursements for barracks and quarters, hospitals, offices, stables, and transportation of supplies; the purchase of clothing, camp and garrison equipage, horses, fuel, forage, straw, bedding, and stationery; payments of hired men and of extra-duty men; expenses incurred in the apprehension of deserters; for the burial of officers and soldiers; for hired escorts, expresses, interpreters, spies, and guides; for veterinary surgeons and medicines for horses; for supplying posts with water; and for all other authorized outlays connected with the movements of the Army not expressly assigned to any other Department.

Subsistence and Engineer Division.—Accounts of all commissaries and acting commissaries in the Army, whose duties are to purchase the provisions and stores necessary for its subsistence, and to see to their proper distribution; also, accounts of officers of the Corps of Engineers who disburse money for the expenses of the Military Academy, the improvement of rivers and harbors, the construction and preservation of fortifications, the surveys on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, the surveys of lakes and rivers, and the construction and repair of breakwaters.

State War and Horse Claims Division.—The settlement of all claims of the several States and Territories for the expenses incurred by them for enrolling, subsisting, clothing, arming, paying, and transporting their troops while employed by the Government in aiding to suppress the recent insurrection against the United States; also, the settlement of claims for the loss of horses and equipages sustained by officers and enlisted men while in the military service, and for horses, mules, &c., lost while in service by impressment or contract.

Miscellaneous Claims Division.—The adjustment of claims for the appropriation of stores, the purchase of vessels, railroad stock, horses, and other means of transportation; the occupation of real estate, court-martial fees, travelling expenses, &c.; claims for compensation for vessels, cars, engines, &c., lost in the military service; claims growing out of the Oregon and Washington war of 1855 and 1856, and other Indian wars; claims of various descriptions under special acts of Congress, and claims not otherwise assigned for adjudication.

Collection Division.—Prepares accounts for suit against defaulting officers; answers all calls for information from the files of the office; examines all claims for bounty-land and pensions granted to the soldiers of the war of 1812, and properly certifies them to the Commissioner of Pensions for action.

THE FOURTH AUDITOR.

The Fourth Auditor examines, adjusts, and transfers to the Second Comptroller all accounts concerning the pay, expenditures, pensions, and prize-money of the Navy and the accounts of the Navy Department. The subordinate divisions of the Bureau are—

Record Prize Division.—Adjusts the prize-money accounts and prepares tabulated statements called for by Congress.

Navy-Agents' Division.—Examines the accounts of the disbursements by the navy-agents at Portsmouth, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and San Francisco.

Paymasters' Division.—Examines the accounts of paymasters, including mechanics' rolls.

THE FIFTH AUDITOR.

The Fifth Auditor examines, adjusts, and transfers to the First Comptroller the diplomatic and consular accounts, the expenditures of the Department of State and the Bureau of Internal Revenue. There are two Divisions:

Diplomatic and Consular Division.—Adjustment is made of the expenses of all missions abroad for salaries, contingencies, and loss by exchange; consular-fees, salaries, and emoluments; consular courts and prisons; the relief of American seamen; the return of American seamen charged with crime; the expenses of claims, commissions, boundary-surveys, &c.

Internal-Revenue Division.—Accounts for assessing and of collecting the internal revenue, including the salaries, commissions, and allowances of the assessors and collectors, their contingent expenses, &c.; the cost of revenue-stamps; the accounts for salaries and expenses of supervisors, agents, and surveyors of distilleries; the fees and expenses of gaugers; counsel-fees, and taxes refunded.

THE SIXTH AUDITOR.

The Sixth Auditor examines and adjusts all accounts relating to the postal service, and his decisions on these are final, unless an appeal be taken in twelve months to the First Comptroller. He superintends the collection of all debts due the Post-Office Department, and all penalties imposed on postmasters and mail-contractors; directs suits and legal proceedings, civil and criminal, and takes all such measures as may be authorized by law to enforce the payment of moneys due to the Department. There are eight subordinate Divisions, viz:

Collecting Division.—The collection of balances due from all postmasters, late postmasters, and contractors; also the payment of all balances due to late and present postmasters, and the adjustment and final settlement of postal accounts.

Stating Division.—The general postal accounts of postmasters and those of late postmasters, until fully stated, are in charge of this division.

Examining Division.—Receives and audits the quarterly accounts-current of all post-offices in the United States. It is divided into four subdivisions, viz: the opening-room, the stamp-rooms, the examining corps proper, and the error-rooms.

Money-Order Division.—Accounts of money-orders paid and received are examined, assorted, checked, and filed; remittances are registered and checked; errors corrected.

Foreign Mail Division.—Has charge of the postal accounts with foreign governments, and the accounts with steamship companies for ocean transportation of the mails.

Registering Division.—Receives from the examining division the quarterly accounts-current of all the post-offices in the United States, re-examines and registers them, placing each item of revenue and expenditure under its appropriate head, adds and recapitulates the same, and exhibits in the register ending June 30 of each year the total amount of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year.

Pay Division.—The adjustment and payment of all accounts for the transportation of the mails, whether carried by ocean-steamers, railroads, steamboats, or any mail-carrier; the accounts of the railway postal service, railway postal clerks, route-agents, and local agents, mail-depredations, special agents, free-delivery system, postage-stamps, postal cards, envelopes, stamps, maps, wrapping-paper, twine, mail-bags, mail locks and keys, advertising, fees in suits on postal matters, and miscellaneous accounts.

Bookkeeping Division.—The duty of keeping the ledger-accounts of the Department, embracing postmasters, late postmasters, contractors, late contractors, and accounts of a general, special, and miscellaneous character.

THE TREASURER OF THE UNITED STATES.

The treasurer of the United States is charged with the custody of all public moneys received into the Treasury at Washington, or in the sub-treasuries at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Charleston, Cincinnati, St. Louis and San Francisco, or in the depositories and depository banks; disburses all public moneys upon the warrants of the Secretary of the Treasury, and upon the warrants of the Postmaster-General; issues and redeems Treasury notes; is agent for the redemption of the circulating notes of national banks, is trustee of the bonds held for the security of the circulating notes of national banks, and of bonds held as security for public deposits; is custodian of Indian trust funds; is agent for paying the interest on the public debt, and for paying the salaries of the members of the House of Representatives. The subordinate divisions of the Treasury are—

Issue Division.—Issues are made of legal-tender notes, fractional currency, coin-certificates, &c.

Redemption Division.—Coin-certificates, national-bank notes, fractional currency, &c., are redeemed, and generally destroyed by maceration.

Loan Division.—Bonds are issued, purchased, retired, cancelled, or converted.

Accounts Division.—The accounts of the Treasury, the sub-treasuries, and the national banks used as depositories are kept.

National-Bank Division.—Bonds held as security for national-bank circulation are examined, notes issued, redeemed, and cancelled.

National-Bank Redemption Agency.—Notes of national banks are redeemed, assorted, and accounted for.

THE REGISTER OF THE TREASURY.

The Register of the Treasury has charge of the great account-books of the United States, which show every receipt and disbursement, and from which statements are annually made for transmission to Congress. He signs and issues all bonds, Treasury notes, and other securities; registers all warrants drawn by the Secretary upon the Treasurer; transmits statements of balances due to individuals after their settlement by the First Comptroller, on which payment is made; issues ships' registers, licenses, and enrolments; prepares annual returns of all vessels built, lost, or destroyed; and also prepares statements of the tonnage of vessels in which importations and exportations are made, with the various articles and their values. These duties are attended to in five Divisions, viz:

Coupon and Note Division.—Bonds, interest-coupons, gold-certificates, coin-checks, currency certificates of deposit, and certificates of indebtedness are examined, registered, and issued or redeemed.

Note and Fractional Currency Division.—Treasury notes, notes of national banks which have gone into liquidation, and mutilated fractional currency are examined, cancelled, and destroyed by maceration.

Loan Division.—Registered and coupon bonds are issued, embracing the transfer of all registered bonds; the conversion of coupon into registered; the ledger accounts with holders of registered bonds, and schedules made out upon which interest on same is paid.

Receipts and Expenditures Division.—The ledgers of the United States are kept, showing the civil, diplomatic, internal-revenue, miscellaneous, and public-debt receipts and expenditures; also, statements of the warrants and drafts registered.

Tonnage Division.—Accounts are kept showing the registered and the enrolled and licensed tonnage, divided into different classes, and exhibiting what is annually built and what is engaged in the fisheries of different kinds.

THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

The Comptroller of the Currency has, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, the control of the national banks. The Divisions of this Bureau are—

Issue Division.—The preparation and issue of national-bank circulation,

Redemption Division.—The redemption and destruction of notes issued by national banks.

Reports Division.—Examination and consolidation of the reports of national banks.

Organization Division.—The organization of national banks.

THE SOLICITOR.

The Solicitor of the Treasury is an officer in the Department of Justice, having a seal, and is required by law to take cognizance, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, of all frauds or attempted frauds upon the revenue, and exercises a general supervision over all legal measures for their prevention and detection; also to establish regulations, with the approbation of the Secretary of the Treasury, for the observance of collectors of the customs; and, with the approbation of the Attorney-General, for the observance of United States attorneys, marshals, and clerks respecting suits in which the United States is a party or interested. He is also empowered and directed to instruct the district attorneys, marshals, and clerks of the circuit and district courts in all matters and proceedings appertaining to suits in which the United States is a party or interested, except those arising under the internal-revenue laws.

He is required to examine reports of collectors and district attorneys upon bonds delivered for suit; to inform the President of false reports of bonds delivered for suit, and supervise statements from district attorneys concerning suits, and those from marshals relating to proceedings on execution; also reports from clerks as to judgments and decrees; and is charged by the Attorney-General with all post-office litigation.

He also has charge of the secret-service employes engaged in the detection of persons counterfeiting the coin, currency, and public securities of the United States, and all other frauds on the Government. In addition to the duties prescribed by law, the Secretary of the Treasury refers to the Solicitor for opinion a very large number of cases arising in his Department relating to duties, remission of fines, penalties, and forfeitures, navigation and registry laws, steamboat-inspection acts, claims, &c.

THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue makes all assessments and superintends the collection of all taxes; preparation of instructions for special-tax stamps, (formerly licenses,) forms, and stamps of all kinds; and pays into the Treasury, daily, all moneys received by him from collectors. He is aided in his duties by the Solicitor of Internal Revenue, who is an officer of the Department of Justice, and to whom all questions of law and practice thereunder are submitted; by one Deputy Commissioner, seven heads of divisions, one stenographer, twenty-five clerks of class four, thirty clerks of class three, forty clerks of class two, eighteen of class one, fifty clerks at $900 each, four messengers, and ten laborers, aggregating one hundred and eighty-seven persons.

The business of the bureau is transacted in seven divisions, viz:

Appointment Division.—Is charged with all matters pertaining to issuing of commissions, leaves of absence, office-discipline, assorting and disposition of the mail, registry and copying of all letters, with the care of the general files; and all matters relating to messengers, laborers, office-stationery, printing, advertising, and the preparation of blanks and blank-books for the bureau.

Law Division.—Is charged with all questions (except as hereinafter stated) relating to seizures, suits, abatement, and refunding claims, and those relating to special taxes, documentary stamp-taxes, taxes on incomes, legacies, and successions, and on dividends, &c.; also lands purchased for the United States on distraint, and the extension of time on distraints.

Tobacco Division.—Is charged with all matters (including special taxes) relating to tobacco, snuff, and cigars not in suit or in bond, stamp-tax on medicines and preparations under Schedule A, Revised Statutes.

Division of Accounts.—Has charge of the examination and reference of the revenue and disbursing accounts, the estimates of collectors and of their applications for special allowances, and other matters relative to advertising and the purchase of blank-books, newspapers, and stationery for collectors, revenue-agents, &c.; also has charge of the examination and reference of the monthly bills of revenue-agents, gaugers, and distillery-surveyors, and of all miscellaneous claims presented to this bureau arising under any appropriation made for carrying into effect the various internal-revenue laws, (excepting claims for abatement, refunding, and drawback,) and the preparation of estimates for appropriations by Congress, together with the preparation of the statistical records of the bureau.

Division of Distilled Spirits.—This division is charged with the supervision of all matters pertaining to distilleries, distilled spirits, fermented liquors, wines, rectification, gaugers' fees and instruments, approval of bonded warehouses, and the assignment of storekeepers.

Stamp Division.—This division is charged with the supervision of the preparation, safe-keeping, issue, and redemption of stamps for distilled spirits, tobacco, snuff, and cigars, fermented liquors, special taxes, documentary and proprietary stamps, and the keeping of all accounts pertaining thereto, also the supervision of all business with Adams Express Company, and the preparation, custody, and issue of steel dies for cancelling stamps.

Division of Assessments.—Is charged with the preparation of the assessment-lists, with the consideration of all reports and returns, except those received from distillers, rectifiers, and brewers, affording data from which assessments may be made; also, with keeping the bonded account, and with the consideration of claims for the allowance of drawback.

In addition to the above there was organized, at the commencement of what is commonly known as the "whiskey war," a division of revenue-agents for the purpose of detecting any and all frauds which might be perpetrated against the internal-revenue laws; and for the reason that the work assigned to this division has been efficiently performed, and with great advantage to the interests of the Government, the same has been continued, and is now in active operation.

SUPERINTENDENT OF THE COAST SURVEY.

The Coast Survey is continuing the hydrographical survey of the Atlantic, Pacific, and lake coasts, with the topography of the shores, tidal operations, &c.; drawings of charts are made and published; and the publication of the Coast Pilot, for the Atlantic coast, has been commenced.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

THE SECRETARY OF WAR.

The Secretary of War performs such duties as the President of the United States, who is Commander-in-Chief, may enjoin upon him concerning the military service, and has the superintendence of the purchase of Army supplies, transportation, &c.

The Chief Clerk receives in the Secretary's Office the public mail and correspondence; distributes, records, and answers it; keeps the accounts of appropriations and estimates; is the medium of communication between the Secretary and officers of the Department, and has the general superintendence of the Department.

MILITARY BUREAUS OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The chiefs of the military bureaus of the War Department are officers of the Regular Army of the United States, and a part of the military establishment, viz:

The Adjutant-General promulgates the orders of the President and the General commanding the Army, and conducts correspondence between the General and the Army, receives reports, issues commissions and resignations, superintends recruiting and the military prison at Leavenworth, has charge of the papers concerning the enlistment and drafting of volunteers, receives all muster-rolls, and furnishes consolidated reports of the entire Army, and has charge, under the General, of details affecting the discipline of the Army.

The Inspector-General, with his assistants, inspect and report upon the personnel and the matériel of the Army, at all posts, stations, and depots, and give instruction relative to the correct interpretation of doubtful points of law, regulations, and orders, and upon other mooted questions regarding the proper performance of military duties; and they also inspect the money accounts of all disbursing officers of the Army under the act of Congress approved April 20, 1874.

The Quartermaster-General, aided by assistants, provides quarters and transportation for the Army, clothing, camp and garrison equipage, horses and mules, forage, wagons, stoves, stationery, fuel, lights, straw, hospitals, and medicines; he pays the expenses of guides, spies, and interpreters, and veterinary surgeons; pays the funeral expenses of officers and men, and is in charge of the national cemeteries.

The Commissary-General has administrative control of the Subsistence Department—of the disbursement of its appropriations; the providing of rations and their issue to the Army; the purchase and distribution of articles authorized to be kept for sale to officers and enlisted men; and the adjustment of accounts and returns for subsistence funds and supplies, preliminary to their settlement by the proper accounting officers of the Treasury.

The Surgeon-General, under the immediate direction of the Secretary of War, is charged with the administrative duties of the Medical Department; the designation of the stations of medical officers, and the issuing of all orders and instructions relating to their professional duties. He directs as to the selection, purchase, and distribution of the medical supplies of the Army. The Army Medical Museum and the official publications of the Surgeon-General's Office are also under his direct control.

The Paymaster-General and his assistants pay the Army, also Second Auditor's Treasury certificates, and keep a record of said payments.

The Chief of Engineers commands the Corps of Engineers, which is charged with all duties relating to fortifications, whether permanent or temporary; with torpedoes for coast defence; with all works for the attack and defence of places; with all military bridges, and with such surveys as may be required for these objects, or the movement of armies in the field. It is also charged with the harbor and river improvements; with military and geographical explorations and surveys; with the survey of the lakes; and with any other engineer work specially assigned to the Corps by acts of Congress or orders of the President of the United States.

The Chief of Ordnance commands the Ordnance Department, the duties of which consist in providing, preserving, distributing, and accounting for every description of artillery, small-arms, and all the munitions of war which may be required for the fortresses of the country, the armies in the field, and for the whole body of the militia of the Union. In these duties are comprised that of determining the general principles of construction and of prescribing in detail the models and forms of all military weapons employed in war. They comprise also the duty of prescribing the regulations for the proof and inspection of all these weapons, for maintaining uniformity and economy in their fabrication, for insuring their good quality, and for their preservation and distribution; and for carrying into effect the general purposes here stated large annual appropriations are made, and in order to fulfil these purposes, extensive operations are conducted at the national armories, arsenals, and ordnance depots.

The Judge-Advocate General and his assistant receive, review, and have recorded the proceedings of the courts-martial, courts of inquiry, and military commissions of the Armies of the United States, and furnish reports and opinions on such questions of law and other matters as may be referred to the Bureau of Military Justice for the purpose by the Secretary of War.

The Chief Signal Officer superintends the instruction of officers and men in signal duties, supervises the preparation of maps and charts, and has the reports from the numerous stations received at Washington consolidated and published.

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

The Secretary of the Navy performs such duties as the President of the United States, who is Commander-in-Chief, may assign him, and has the general superintendence of construction, manning, armament, equipment, and employment of vessels of war.

The Chief Clerk has general charge of the records and correspondence of the Secretary's Office.

NAVAL BUREAUS OF THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

The chiefs of the naval bureaus of the Navy Department are officers of the United States Navy, and a part of the naval establishment, viz :

The Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks has charge of the navy-yards and naval stations, their construction and repair; he purchases timber and other materials.

The Chief of the Bureau of Navigation supplies vessels of war with maps, charts, chronometers, barometers, flags, signal-lights, glasses, and stationery; he has charge of the publication of charts, the Nautical Almanac, and surveys; and the Naval Observatory and Hydrographic Office at Washington are under the direction of this Bureau.

The Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance has charge of the manufacture of naval ordnance and ammunition; the armament of vessels of war; the arsenals and magazines; the trials and tests of ordnance, small-arms, and ammunition; also of the torpedo-service, and torpedo-station at Newport, and experimental battery at Annapolis.

The Chief of the Bureau of Provisions and Clothing has charge of all contracts and purchases for the supply of provisions, water for cooking and drinking purposes, clothing, and small stores for the use of the Navy.

The Chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery superintends everything relating to medicines, medical stores, surgical instruments, and hospital supplies required for the treatment of the sick and wounded of the Navy and the Marine Corps.

The Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair has charge of dry-docks and of all vessels undergoing repairs; the designing, building, and fitting-out of vessels, and the armor of iron-clads.

The Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting has charge of the equipment of all vessels of war, and the supply to their sails, rigging, anchors, and fuel; also of the recruiting of sailors of the various grades.

The Engineer-in-Chief directs the designing, fitting-out, running, and repairing of the steam marine-engines, boilers and appurtenances, used on vessels of war, and the workshops in the navy-yards where they are made and repaired.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

The Secretary of the Interior is charged with the supervision of public business relating to patents for inventions; pensions and bounty-lands; the public lands, including mines; the Indians; education; the census, when directed by law; the custody and distribution of public documents; and certain hospitals and eleemosynary institutions in the District of Columbia. He also exercises certain powers and duties in relation to the Territories of the United States.

THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

The Assistant Secretary of the Interior performs such duties as are prescribed by the Secretary or required by law, aiding in the general administration of the affairs of the Department. In the absence of the Secretary, he acts as the head of the Department.

Chief Clerk.—He has the general management of the order of business in the Secretary's Office, which is transacted in divisions, viz: Appointment Division, Disbursement Division, Land and Railroad Division, Indian Division, Pension and Miscellaneous Division, Document Division, Stationery Division and Returns Office.

COMMISSIONER OF THE GENERAL LAND-OFFICE.

The Commissioner of Public Lands is charged with the survey, management, and sale of the public domain, and the issuing of titles therefor, whether derived from confirmations of grants made by former governments, by sales, donations, or grants for schools, railroads, military bounties, or public improvements. The Land-Office also audits its own accounts.

The divisions of the office are, the Recorder's, Public Lands, Private Land-Claims, Surveys, Draughting, Mineral Claims, Railroads, Bounty-Lands, Swamp Lands, Pre-emption Claims, and Accounts.

COMMISSIONER OF PATENTS.

The Commissioner of Patents is charged with the administration of the patent-laws, and supervises all matters relating to the issue of letters-patent for new and useful discoveries, inventions, and improvements. He is aided by an Assistant Commissioner, three Examiners-in-Chief, twenty-four Examiners, an Examiner of Interferences, and an Examiner of Trade-marks.

COMMISSIONER OF PENSIONS.

The Commissioner of Pensions supervises the examination and adjudication of all claims arising under laws passed by Congress granting bounty-land or pension on account of service in the Army or Navy during the Revolutionary and all subsequent wars in which the United States has been engaged.

He is assisted by a Deputy Commissioner, a Medical Referee, and a Board of Appeal. The divisions of the office are entitled the Invalid, Widows', War of 1812, Medical, Records and Accounts, Bounty-Land, Special Service, and Mail.

COMMISSIONER OF INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has charge of the several tribes of Indians in the States and Territories. He issues instructions to, and receives reports from, Inspectors, Superintendents, Agents, and Traders; superintends the purchase, transportation, and distribution of presents and annuities; and reports, annually, the relation of the Government with each tribe.

The divisions of the office are four in number, viz, the Finance, Land, Accounts, Civilization, Educational, and Records.

COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION.

The duties of the Commissioner of Education are to collect such statistics and facts as shall show the condition and progress of education in the several States and Territories, and to diffuse such information respecting the organization and management of schools and school systems, and methods of teaching, as shall aid the people of the United States in the establishment and maintenance of efficient school systems, and otherwise promote the cause of education throughout the country.

SUPERINTENDENT OF THE CENSUS.

The Superintendent of the Census supervises the taking of the census of the United States every tenth year, and the subsequent arrangement, compilation, and publication of the statistics collected.

THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Postmaster-General has the direction and management of the Post-Office Department. He appoints all officers and employés of the Department, except the three Assistants Postmaster-General, who are appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate; appoints all postmasters whose compensation does not exceed one thousand dollars; makes postal treaties with foreign governments, by and with the advice and consent of the President, awards and executes contracts, and directs the management of the domestic and foreign mail service.

THE FIRST ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The First Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the Appointment Office, which includes five Divisions, viz:

Appointment Division.—The duty of preparing all cases for the establishment, discontinuance, and change of name or site of post-offices, and for the appointment of all postmasters, agents, postal clerks, mail-messengers, and Department employés, and attending to all correspondence consequent thereto.

Bond Division.—The duty of receiving and recording appointments; sending out papers for postmasters and their assistants to qualify; receiving, entering, and filing their bonds and oaths; and issuing the commissions for postmasters.

Salary and Allowance Division.—The duty of re-adjusting the salaries of postmasters and the consideration of allowances for rent, fuel, and lights, clerk-hire, and miscellaneous expenditures.

Free Delivery.—The duty of preparing cases for the inauguration of the system in cities, the appointment of letter-carriers, and the general supervision of the system.

Blank-Agency Division.—The duty of sending out the blanks, wrapping-paper, and twine, letter-balances, and canceling-stamps to offices entitled to receive the same.

THE SECOND ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Second Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the Contract Office, mail equipments, &c., including the following three Divisions:

Contract Division.—The arrangement of the mail service of the United States, and placing the same under contract, embracing all correspondence and proceedings respecting the frequency of trips, mode of conveyance, and times of departures and arrivals on all the routes, the course of the mails between the different sections of the country, the points of mail distribution, and the regulations for the government of the domestic mail service. It prepares the advertisements for mail proposals, receives the bids, and has charge of the annual and occasional mail lettings, and the adjustment and execution of the contracts. All applications for the establishment or alteration of mail arrangements and for mail messengers should be sent to this office. All claims should be submitted to it for transportation service not under contract. From this office all postmasters at the end of routes receive the statement of mail arrangements prescribed for the respective routes. It reports weekly to the Auditor all contracts executed, and all orders affecting the accounts for mail transportation; prepares the statistical exhibits of the mail service, and the reports to Congress of the mail lettings, giving a statement of each bid; also of the contracts made, the new service originated, the curtailments ordered, and the additional allowances granted within the year.

Inspection Division.—The duty of receiving and examining the registers of the arrivals and departures of the mails, certificates of the service of route-agents, and reports of mail failures; noting the delinquencies of contractors, and preparing cases thereon for the action of the Postmaster-General; furnishing blanks for mail registers, reports of mail failures, and other duties which may be necessary to secure a faithful and exact performance of all mail contracts and service.

Mail-Equipment Division.—The issuing of mail locks and keys, mail pouches and sacks, and the construction of mail-bag catchers.

THE THIRD ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

The Third Assistant Postmaster-General has charge of the Finance Office, &c., embracing the following four Divisions:

Division of Finance.—The duty of issuing drafts and warrants in payment of balances reported by the Auditor to be due to mail contractors or other persons; the superintendence of the collection of revenue at depository, draft, and depositing offices, and the accounts between the Department and the Treasurer and Assistant Treasurers and special designated depositories of the United States. This Division receives all accounts, monthly or quarterly, of the depository and draft offices, and certificates of deposit from depositing offices.

Division of Postage-Stamps and Stamped Envelopes.—The issuing of postage-stamps, stamped envelopes, newspaper-wrappers, and postal cards; also, the supplying of postmasters with envelopes for their official use, and registered-package envelopes and seals.

Division of Registered Letters.—The duty of preparing instructions for the guidance of postmasters relative to registered letters, and all correspondence connected therewith; also, the compilation of statistics as to the transactions of the business.

Division of Dead Letters.—The examination and return to the writers of dead letters, and all correspondence relating thereto.

The Superintendent of Foreign Mails has charge of all foreign postal arrangements, and the supervision of the ocean mail-steamship service.

The Superintendent of the Money-Order System has the general supervision and control of the postal money-order system throughout the United States, and the supervision of the international money-order correspondence with foreign countries.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

The Attorney-General is the head of the Department of Justice, and the chief law-officer of the Government. He represents the United States in matters involving legal questions; he gives his advice and opinion on questions of law when they are required by the President, or by the heads of the other Executive Departments on questions of law arising upon the administration of their respective Departments; he exercises a general superintendence and direction over United States Attorneys and Marshals in all judicial districts in the States and Territories; and he provides special counsel for the United States whenever required by any Department of the Government.

He is assisted by a Chief Clerk and other clerks and employés in the executive management of the business of the Department.

The Law Clerk, who is also an Examiner of Titles, assists the Attorney-General in the investigation of legal questions and in the preparation of opinions.

THE SOLICITOR-GENERAL.

The Solicitor-General assists the Attorney-General in the performance of his general duties, and by special provision of law in the case of a vacancy in the office of Attorney-General, or in his absence, exercises all these duties. Except when the Attorney-General in particular cases otherwise directs, the Attorney-General and Solicitor-General conduct and argue all cases in the Supreme Court, and in the Court of Claims, in which the United States are interested; and, when the Attorney-General so directs, any such case in any court of the United States may be conducted and argued by the Solicitor-General; and in the same way the Solicitor-General may be sent by the Attorney-General to attend to the interests of the United States in any State court, or elsewhere.

THE ASSISTANT ATTORNEYS-GENERAL.

Two Assistant Attorneys-General assist the Attorney-General and the Solicitor-General in the performance of their duties. One assists in the argument of causes in the Supreme Court and in the preparation of legal opinions; the other is charged with the conduct of the defence of the United States in the Court of Claims.

Under the act of 1870 the different law-officers of the Executive Departments exercise their functions under the supervision and control of the Attorney-General. They are: the Assistant Attorney-General for the Department of the Interior; the Assistant Attorney-General for the Post-Office Department; the Solicitor of the Treasury; and the Solicitor of Internal Revenue. Treasury Department; the Naval Solicitor, Navy Department; and the Examiner of Claims, State Department.

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

THE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

The Commissioner of Agriculture is required to collect and diffuse useful information on subjects connected with agriculture. He is to acquire and preserve in his office all information he can obtain concerning agriculture by means of books and correspondence, and by practical and scientific experiments, the collection of statistics, and other appropriate means; to collect new and valuable seeds and plants; to learn by actual cultivation such of them as may require such tests; to propagate such as may be worthy of propagation, and to distribute them among agriculturists.

The Statistician.—He collects reliable information as to the condition, prospects, and results of the cereal, cotton, and other crops, by the instrumentality of four correspondents in each county of every State; this information is gathered at stated periods of each month, carefully studied, estimated, tabulated, and published.

The Entomologist.—He obtains information with regard to insects injurious to vegetation; investigates the character of insects sent him, to point out their modes of infliction and the means by which their depredations may be avoided; and arranges specimens of their injuries and nest architecture.

The Botanist.—He receives botanical contributions, and after making desirable selections for the National Herbarium, distributes the duplicate plants among foreign and domestic scientific societies, institutions of learning, and botanists; and answers inquiries of a botanico-agricultural character.

The Chemist.—He makes analyses of natural fertilizers, vegetable products, and other materials which pertain to the interests of agriculture. Applications are constantly made from all portions of the country for the analysis of soils, minerals, liquids, and manipulated manures.

The Microscopist.—He makes original investigations, mostly relating to the habits of parasitic fungoid plants, which are frequently found on living plants and animals, producing sickly growth and in many cases premature death.

The Propagating Garden.—Large numbers of exotic, utilizable, and economic plants are propagated and distributed. The orange family is particularly valuable, and the best commercial varieties are propagated and distributed to the greatest practicable extent.

The Seed Division.—Seeds are purchased in this and foreign countries of reliable firms, whose guarantee of good quality and genuineness cannot be questioned; they are packed at the Department, and distributed to applicants in all parts of the country.

The Library.—Exchanges are made, by which the library receives reports of the leading agricultural, pomological, and meteorological societies of the world.

ALPHABETICAL LIST

OF

SENATORS, REPRESENTATIVES, AND DELEGATES,

WITH THEIR HOME POST-OFFICES AND RESIDENCES IN WASHINGTON.

[Corrected to October 20, 1877.]

The * designates those whose wives accompany them; the § designates those whose daughters accompany them; the † designates those having other ladies with them.

The streets and avenues of Washington are now numbered on the "Philadelphia plan," starting north, south, east, and west from the base-lines, which run north and south, east and west, intersecting at the Capitol. Thus, in the northwest section of the city, the houses on any street designated by a letter, or on any avenue running east and west, which are between First and Second streets, are numbered between one and two hundred; those between Second and Third streets are numbered between two and three hundred, and so forth. On the streets designated by numbers, or on any avenue running north and south, the houses between A and B streets are numbered between one and two hundred; those between B and C streets are numbered between two and three hundred, and so forth. This system of numbering enables any one, with the aid of a map of the city, to determine the exact location of any house the number and street of which are given.
